As new Happenings surrounded the student body and its functions, each student found for himself his place in Warwick's society. Every facet of student life showed the overwhelming spirit possessed by the fighting Farmers. Hardships presented by the construction of the new school did not hinder the action of the year. Joy and excitement in winning . . . tension before Homecoming . . . laughter in Farmer Day . . . nervousness of College Boards . . . tears in defeat . . . pride for remaining traditions . . . exhausting experiences throughout each day . . . all these happenings were reflected in the school year 1967-68.

Happenings In Student Life

Hey! What's Happening?
What's happened to Warwick?
Where is the football field . . .
the hockey field . . . the tennis courts? What was happening?—
the inevitable—Warwick was being enlarged and rebuilt!
While things were happening to the outside of Warwick (accompanied by various thought-shattering noises) there were happenings in the inside as well.

Long before the first bell sounded until various hours in the evening following the final bell, Warwick was alive with action. There was always something happening; always something desiring school spirit and participation. Looking forward to the limitless challenges of each school day (tests, reports, stubborn lockers, cafeteria lunches . . .), eager to join in, brimming with enthusiasm—
this was Warwick's student life as they made their mark in her history.

Is a real sweet girl with alot of feelings for others. Stay as sweet & considerate as you are,
and you'll go far in life.
Love ya
Effie

Student Life

Confusion Turns To Confidence

Warwick High School's student life—would you believe confused? For the first few weeks of school this described the lives of Warwick students quite appropriately. People soon settled down to the business at hand which, contrary to popular desire, was learning. Although studying was the major event at school, students still found time to assemble and participate in the wide variety of during and after school activities. Regardless of one's tastes and preferences, there was always something happening to interest him. There were school traditions to look forward to and uphold: Farmer Day, Student and Teacher of the Month, Very Important Farmer . . . not to mention all the unwritten traditions such as the before school gatherings in the cafeteria. Sports, clubs, projects—all invited the participation and support of any interested student.

Upperclassmen introduce new comers to school life in Orientation Day assembly. Students had to adjust to the change in bus transportation as they came to school at the back entrance. Painting posters for Homecoming are enthusiastic students Tena Plott, Larry Horrell and Renee Noland. Glenn Stancil and Billy Smith stare in amazement as Mike Deal makes a startling statement at lunch.

Student Life

Happenings Create Challenges for All

During the nine hours of each school day, the tedious work of both students and faculty presented many new problems. Often times, as the day ended, the life of Warwick had just begun. Teachers became more and more involved in Warwick's great happening. Throughout the year, the close association between students and teachers fulfilled the goals begun in September. Words and ideas were put into action and many new projects became realities. Highlights included the Senior Prom, Homecoming, and the excitement of Farmer Day, while a new football stadium, Todd Field, was used for the first time. Thoughts for the new museum were compiled to preserve the memory of the old Warwick. As the 1967-68 year evolved, the realization that this would be the last year in the tradition-filled Warwick reached the student body.

Professor Ollagaruso from VPI speaks to science and math students about advantages of attending college. A warning sign to the Falcons is displayed by Warwick cheerleaders. While posing as Granny, Carole Roper explains the many traditions of Warwick to an expected audience of "mice".

Nine of the most beautiful girls are represented in the outstanding Homecoming court of 1967.

Student Life

Farmers Walk Halls of Tradition For Last Time

A WHAT? The chicken coop is going to be converted into a ... STABLE?? The decision that Warwick's twenty-two year old "temporary" building was to be moved to Newport News City Park and used as a stable was met with mixed emotions. Although the rebuilding of Warwick was anxiously awaited by many, a small minority viewed this construction with dismay.

Besides the removal of the chicken coop, many students grieved the loss of the thirty beautiful murals in the school. Representing the work of many students who had attended Warwick down through the years, the murals were a source of school pride and devotion.

The loss of treasured things was only one aspect of the new building; many people rejoiced over the prospect of a new Warwick. The 1968 class was very proud that they were the last ones to graduate from the old school.

Arlene,
you are a real nice gal. I haven't known you long but I like you alot. you are real sweet and lovable. I wish you luck for the future.

Happenings In The Faculty

Supplementing textbooks with irreplaceable explanations, patiently explaining objects of uncertainty in students' minds, often remaining after school to tutor students who had difficulty in grasping some idea ... teaching ... guiding ... these were the main tasks of the Warwick faculty. In true
Farmer spirit few stopped here.
Organizations and projects needed sponsors ... sports needed coaches. Extracurricular activities not only received student support, but also faculty support. Teachers came to join in the excitement of a sport or chaperone a dance. No matter what kind of happening was taking place at Warwick, the teachers were there. "Back to School Night" found many teachers talking with the parents of their students to broaden the knowledge of Farmer academics. Throughout the year, the students became the main happening of the faculty.

Arlene, I'm sure has been a great year
 this year at Warwick and I have enjoyed being there with you and all the other wonderful people I wish you luck in future years at W.H.S. and in what ever you do.
 (D.H.S.) Love ya.

Dedication

Years Devotion Not Overlooked By Students

While things were happening at Warwick, there remained behind the scenes one of the most respected, loved, and trusted members of the faculty. As a teacher, he attempted, with utmost patience, to instill in his students a clear understanding of the complexities of science. In class one noticed his ability to cope with any situation and his great wealth of knowledge. In coming into close contact with this delightful person, one immediately observed his quiet, yet unquestionable devotion to Warwick. Few football, baseball, or basketball games went by without the faithful support of this man as he enthusiastically helped with the collection of tickets. Because of his many years of hard work and numerous contributions to the student body of Warwick, the 1968 WARWICK is proudly dedicated to Mr. James Reed MacNeil.

Calculating the angle of diffraction through water, Mr. MacNeil demonstrates the proper techniques of pin placing. During lunch Mr. MacNeil listens to the problems of a new science teacher, Mr. McCoy. Below, listening to a speaker at a faculty meeting, Mr. MacNeil contemplates the speaker's view.

Talking over school fire drill plans are assistant principals, Mr. Quesenberry and Miss Armistead. Recognizing the pleasant personality of Mr. Starboard is easy for anyone even on the telephone. Members of the Newport News City School Board are Mr. Gordon F. Pullen, Jr., Mrs. John Paulson, Dr. J. T. Jobe, III, Mr. J. M. Dozier, Jr., Chairman, Mr. Richard Newman, Dr. E. Stanley Grannum, and Dr. W. T. Watkins, Jr., Vice Chairman.

Administration

Assisting Principals Guide Happenings

"... Once again, welcome to Warwick!" concluded returning principal, Mr. James W. Starboard in his orientation speech welcoming the eighth graders and transfer students. Aiding him this year with the tasks that flooded the office daily were Miss Ellena Armistead, Dean of Girls, and Mr. Guy Quesenberry, Dean of Boys. With the help of these two assistant principals, Mr. Starboard assembled the master schedule, counseled students, helped teachers, and, on the whole, held the school together. Gaining the loyalty and respect of the students has always been the most important aim of the principals. The Farmer enthusiasm of Mr. Starboard, Miss Armistead with her patient smiles, the respected advice of Mr. Quesenberry and their ability to think young provided the foundation for their aims and enabled them to create a friendly atmosphere.

Checking student files, below, Mrs. Burton is busy. Breaks are rare and often interrupted by constant phone calls. Mrs. Burton, and Mrs. Murry smile as Mrs. Dedmond answers the telephone while Mrs. Leviner concentrates on other business. Explaining the day's absentees to the school nurse, Mrs. Humphries, is Mrs. Knies. Records, receipts, and other office work require the cooperation of Mrs. Murry and Mrs. Dedmond with chief secretary, Mrs. Leviner, below center.

Office

Staff Duties, Indispensible, Active, Friendly

Peering over the high, glass-enclosed counter in the main office, one could observe the industrious office staff engaged in their everyday office staff duties. Mrs. Leviner once more occupied the position of secretary for the principal Mr. Starboard, and head of the office employees. Acting as insurance manager and receptionist, Mrs. Dedmond greeted all peering visitors with a warm "May I help you?" smile. Off to one side of the office in a small, one-windowed room, Mrs. Burton worked drafting transcripts for college bound students. Two new assistants joined the ranks of the office staff this year. In the IBM Room, Mrs. Knies settled down to attendance checking. Meanwhile, back in the office, Mrs. Murray was completely occupied with the upkeep of the records and books.

Guidance Office Underclassmen Take STEP, SCAT

"Ah . . . why did you wait until second semester to inform us that your schedule put you in both lunch periods?" When faced with any type of problem, or when seeking information about courses or colleges, students found that a visit to the guidance office was in order. Mr. William Williams and Miss Roena MacJunkin, Mrs. Helen Baker, Mrs. Neva Parker, Mrs. Kathleen Palmer, and Mrs. Josephine Muire, counselors for the eighth through the twelfth grades respectively, were the consultants. Fitting in as a new secretary, Mrs. Rich spent most of her time making appointments for the students. Also commanding the abilities of the staff were the eighth grade Differential Aptitude Test and the STEP and SCAT tests for the freshmen. Seniors kept the staff busy as each needed to have his credits investigated as to the number he needed in order to graduate in June.

Custodians-Cafeteria

Students Find Broken Lockers, Hot Lunches

Running from building to building, floor to floor, the custodian staff performed the endless jobs connected with the maintenance of the school. Coming early on school mornings, the staff prepared the buildings for the day. During each day, the custodians not only kept the halls and restrooms clean and free of litter, but also responded to numerous calls about a broken or malfunctioning object. Mr. William Ervin, head custodian, led the efficient staff through the year.

Everything needs food for energy and Warwick's 1650 "happenings" were no exception. Mrs. Flora Barnard again managed the large kitchen staff, who, providing lunches in two shifts daily, found ample to keep them busy. After deciding the menu a month in advance, Mrs. Barnard ran it in the local paper and mimeographed it for distribution about the school.

At left, members of the cafeteria staff are, seated, Arthur Balden, Sally Green, Margaret McNair, Rosetta Anderson and Leala Monroe. Standing are, Mrs. Barnard, Doma Chappell, Davis Stancil, Ethel Wesson and Margestine Joyner. Taking a few minutes for paper work is Geobia Stallings. Peanut butter sandwiches are being made by Margaret McNair. Custodians are, sitting, Ethelyne Wilkins, Rose Brown, Alma East, and Annie Griffin. Standing are William Ervin, Fenton Wrenn, Learl Outlaw, Geobia Stallings, and Richard Laem.

Happenings In Features

Features . . . the traditional Highlights of a year at Warwick High School. There was always something special happening throughout the year to cause excitement and accelerate spirit.

Homecoming, Farmer Day, Special Awards Assemblies for sports, and scholarships assemblies in which various teams and organizations presented to the school the awards they had won in competition, inductions into honorary organizations such as the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll, the selection of senior leaders . . .

all were long-awaited . . . all were remembered . . . traditions came from the past to move onward, special awards were kept and remembered and sometimes shown in the halls, honors were remembered all around by those honored. These were some of the much celebrated Happenings that helped fill out the year.

Homecoming

New Traditions Born at Todd Stadium

"Oh, Terry! You look simply ravishing!" Terry Craft, great mock Homecoming Queen of 1967 and his "court" proved to be the highlight of the pep assembly preceding the Homecoming game with Matoaca.

Long before this activity took place, the remaining committees had been active. The ballots for the court had been tallied by the voting committee, and the flower committee had taken a flood of orders for traditional mums. The half-time committee had lined up school spirit promoting activities while the dance committee attacked its huge responsibilities.

The finale of the prelude to Homecoming was the assembly presented on the day of the game. A rousing talk was delivered by Mr. Barclay Sheaks concerning the attributes of real school spirit. Then, with the presentation of the court, Homecoming 1967 was officially underway.

Beautifully representing the senior class, contenders for the crown are Debbie Joyner, Donna Burnette, Pat Coffey, and Carolyn Wall. Mr. James Starboard crowns the radiant Pat Coffey Homecoming Queen, as escort Doug Briggs and Co-Captain Jack Howard watch. Debbie Joyner gracefully makes her way to the stage to stand with the senior attendants during the Homecoming Assembly.

Tears of surprise mixed with relief drop on the bouquet of roses clutched by Homecoming Queen, Pat Coffey. The picturesque queen and her colorful court pose for the student body and photographers. Streaming crowds, representing Homecoming '67, congratulate a victorious Farmer team.

Gowns Worn at Matoaca Football Game

Well, maybe we could put the court in wagons and . . . Warwick's first homecoming at Todd stadium presented numerous predicaments. To begin with, because the stadium was new and the ground was soft, no cars were allowed on the field, much to the disappointment of the seniors. This demanded the purchase of a fifty-five foot white runner so the court could walk onto the field. To compensate for the court's traditional drive around the field, Kathy Barclay, chairman of Homecoming, decided to have the court attend the game in their formals. With half-time the court lined up on the field, braving the threat of being blown away along with the runner, until the crowning of the Homecoming Queen of 1967, Pat Coffey. Following Warwick's victory over Matoaca, the evening was concluded at the Homecoming Dance with the "Sheepherders" furnishing the music.

Farmer Day

Laughing Farmers Show WHS Pride During Spirit Week

Instead of having one Farmer Day, the SCA decided to sponsor a Spirit Week this year. All through the week "Beat Fergie" buttons were sold and every day a student was spotlighted as a Friendly Farmer. On the first day of this week, the Farmers wore something in the school colors, maroon and gold. Tuesday no one wore blue or he was designated as a "Finky Farmer." Clash Day came on Wednesday and students wore clashing clothes to emphasize the forthcoming battle with the Mariners. Thursday was Loyalty Day and the football players were recognized. On the final day of the week, Farmer Day, students dressed like farmers in plaid shirts, jeans, and straw hats. An assembly was presented by various groups to show the Farmer Spirit. Here the players, dressed farmers, and the Friendly Farmers were highlighted.

Napkins, wire, and Cindi Munday help to create a giant farmer with the assistance of a friend. Farmers Barbara Mann, Adrian Cook, and Debbie Russell act out one of several skits in the Farmer Day assembly. Signing their names to the victory poster, these students show their support during Farmer Week activities. Buzzing crowds of spirited students gather early in the stands to cheer on their team against Ferguson.

Outstanding Qualities Upheld by Students

One of the highest rewards of an outstanding high school career—outstanding in leadership, in scholarship, in character and in service—is the selection for membership in the National Honor Society. Working to accomplish such goals as the promotion of outstanding scholarship and citizenship within the student body and the community, the members fulfilled their responsibilities.

Outstanding members of publication staffs were honored with an induction to Warwick's Ruby Altizer Roberts Chapter of the Quill and Scroll. Membership in the Quill and Scroll was open to those on the Warwick, Plough and Earle staffs who were in the upper third of their class, recommended by the staff sponsor, and elected by members of the chapter. "We, The Young People," a program heard over WGH Radio was the organization's major project.

During the induction assembly in January for the National Honor Society, several members recite the four ideals of NHS—scholarship, leadership, service and character. Dick Kidney, announcer from WGH radio, and area students, participating in "We the Young People," listen to the opinions of their fellow students.

Counting the hands of enthused seniors proposes a big task for class sponsor, Mr. Bowen, at the senior class meetings. Mrs. Hughes, class sponsor, listens attentively to problems about the Senior Banquet from Bonnie Tilson. Chosen by the Senior Class, the velvet red rose symbolizes courage.

Happenings Made by Spirited Class

Being the last senior class to graduate from the old Warwick, the seniors seemed to cherish their memories of the Happenings of '68 more than those of previous years. The arrival of class rings was celebrated with the Ring Dance in September. Senior pictures were taken, cards and announcements were ordered and the class insignias were chosen during the first part of the year. With second semester, Senior Leaders and personalities were selected, the latter remaining secret until the Senior Banquet in February. The Senior Play, "State Fair", was an experience and a success. Spring brought the long awaited Senior Day, the prom, and baccalaureate service; then at last, Commencement came. The awarding of diplomas brought the seniors' years at Warwick to an end. Some of their dreams and hopes were now realities and their future stretched before them. ..

LIFE'S RACE

Life said, "On your mark,"
And I was on my mark;
Life said, "Get ready,"
And I was ready;
Life said, "Get set,"
And I was set;
Life said, "Go!"
And you know,
I was too fast and too slow,

Faculty Selects Six Outstanding Seniors

As the well adept Editor-in-Chief of the annual, Denise Marie Breault showed outstanding leadership qualities. During her eventful junior year, Denise became a member of Keyettes, National Honor Society, and Quill and Scroll, and was elected president of the Forensic Club. She was also an energetic worker on the pep and several prom committees. In her last year of high school, Denise accepted further duties as she became Co-Chairman of the Senior Budget and Gift Committees.

Many congress and class meetings would have been quite uneventful without the quick, intelligent mind of Brenda Jean Franklin. Hard work and determination accounted for her many contributions to the school. While a junior, Brenda was inducted into the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. She was Associate Editor of the Earle in her junior year. A Daily Press teen writer for three years, Brenda was honored with the Virginia Press Women Writing Award in 1967.

An outgoing personality and a high intelligence were the major characteristics of James Albert McAtamney. In his junior year, Jim was a member of the varsity football team, German Club, Key Club, and National Honor Society. As Vice-President of the SCA and head of Inter-Club Council, Jim's senior year was full of work and responsibility. Also during his senior year, Jim was honored for his scholastic achievements with the National Merit Scholarship Letter of Commendation.

A quiet and reserved person, Irvin James Ragsdale was one of Warwick's top seniors. He was tapped for membership in the National Honor Society while a junior. Also in his junior year he was an enthusiastic member of several prom committees and of the Key Club. When a senior, he led the Senior Finance Committee and was Co-Chairman of the Projects Committee. Citing him for his outstanding contributions to the school, the SCA named him Student of the Month for January.

Noted for his witty and friendly attitude, Christopher Kay Wilson possessed the all-around qualities of a senior leader. As a member of the golf team, the Honor Council, Quill and Scroll, Key Club, and Photography Editor of The Warwick, Chris showed his interest in the school.

In preparation for a career in Aerospace Engineering, Chris served as president of NASA Langley Research Center Aerospace Explorer Post Number 36. He will study this field at Georgia Tech.

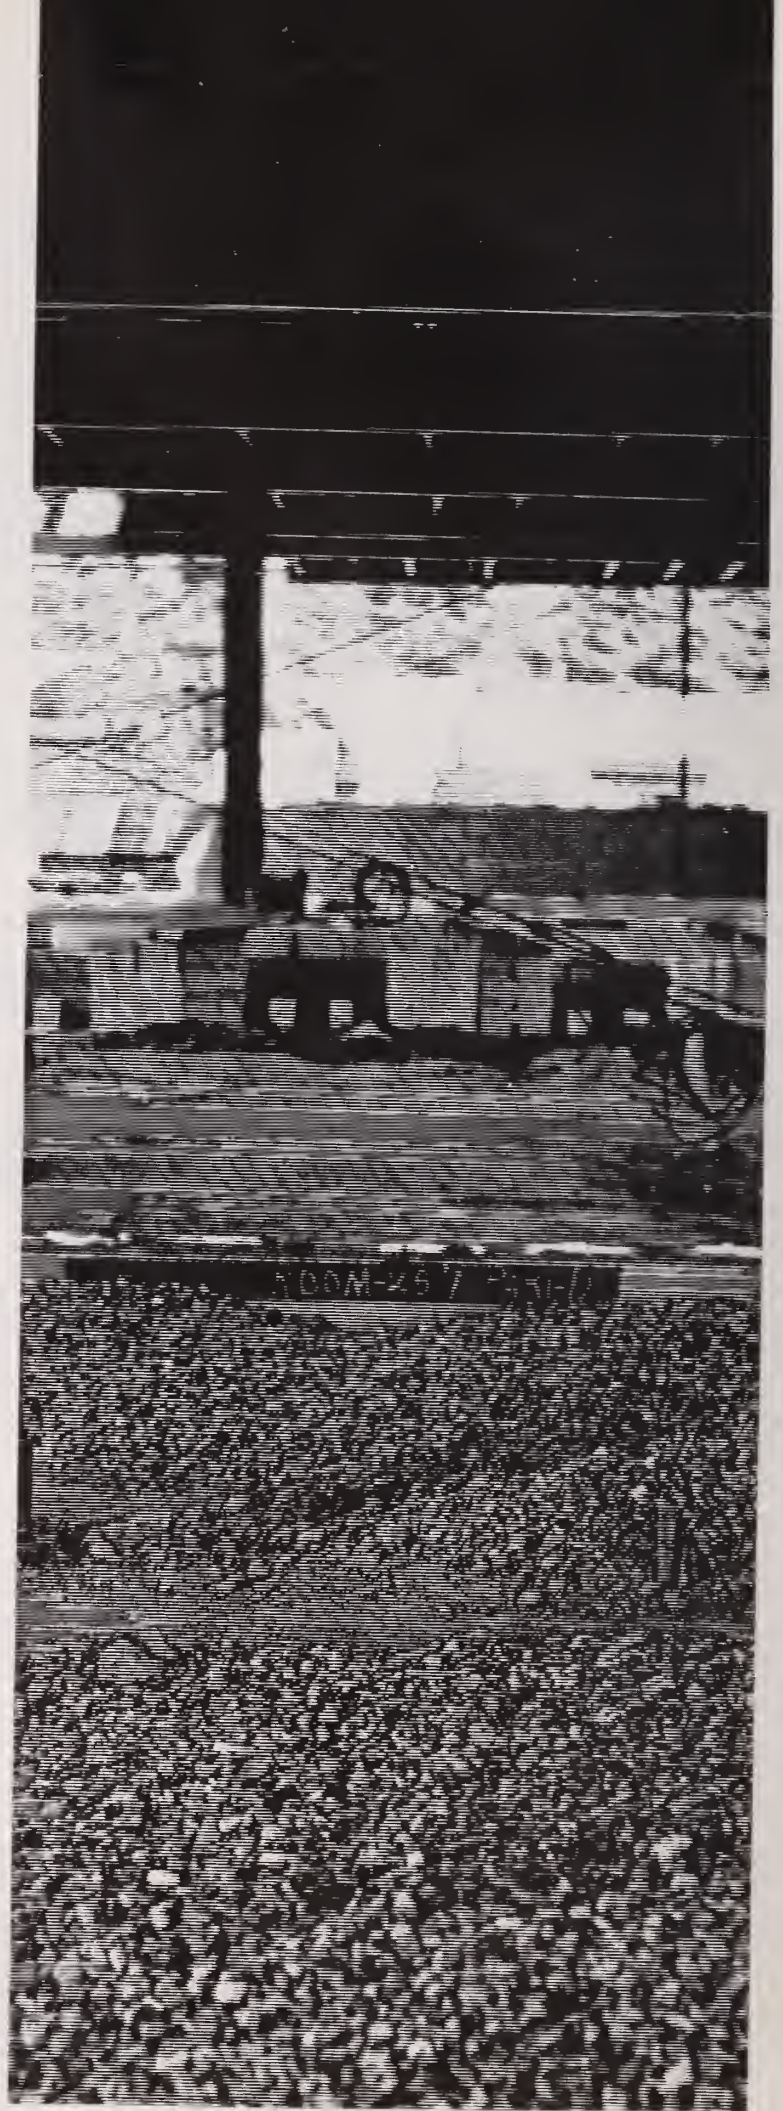

Lively, creative Cynthia May Wornom was honored for her scholastic achievements with the National Merit Test Letter of Commendation. While in eleventh grade, Cynthia became a member of the National Honor Society. As a member of Quill and Scroll, she served as Co-Chairman of "We the Young People", a radio panel discussion group, in her senior year. Also while a member of the graduating class, Cynthia used her originality in her job as Lay-out Editor of The Warwick.

Happenings In Academics

"Take out a clean sheet of paper and number from one to ten." Evoking a diversity of reactions, this request was not unfamiliar to the students. Those who had completed their assignments regarded it with indifference, while the unprepared anxiously calculated the effect a low mark would have on their final grades. Pop quizzes, tests, reports, films, recordings, charts, assignments . . . all a part of learning . . . developing and cultivating mentally . . . education, that upon which a prosperous future is so dependent. Under each subject department, classes dealing with different divisions of that subject were presented. New areas of learning were emphasized, such as Home Economics for boys and the art of fencing for junior girls of Physical Education. Required subjects, electives, non-credit courses . . . all forming the foundations for a career, broadened perceptions and built personalities.

English

Interpretations Are Expressed In New Books

"New English? I haven't even gotten the hang of the old stuff yet." Warwick's eighth, ninth, and tenth grades began the "New English" program under department head, Mrs. Taylor. Eleventh and twelfth grades will follow through in '68-'69. Along with grammar units, many new sets of books, including supplementary material for English and American Literature were obtained. In addition to the new textbooks, the English Department utilized its newly acquired audio-visual equipment.

In their attempt to correlate their work as closely as possible with other departments at Warwick, the English teachers carried their subject into other phases, drawing them closer together and creating a better understanding in both areas. Essay contests helped unite the English classes in their studies as students were often assigned essays on the contest topics.

History

Odd Facts Learned Through Research

"Gee, I'm sure glad that I've found out that Bechuanaland had approximately 275,000 square miles. It'll come in handy some day." The Social Studies Department, supervised by Col. Ellis Luck, provided the school with geography, history, sociology, and government courses. In the eighth grade, a US history course gave the mice a picture of America as she grew into a nation. While either a freshman or a sophomore, students chose between World Geography or World History. A more detailed US history course confronted the juniors, as seniors advanced to US government where they learned to appreciate its qualities and to understand its limitations. With the extensive use of films and weekly magazines, the department sought to familiarize its classes with the social and economical statuses of the world's nations and keep them posted on current events.

Math Quantitative Skills Yield "Fun"

Math Is Fun ... math students reminded themselves as they excitedly attacked a new assignment. Under Mr. Neal Drummond, the Math Department's courses included Math I, III, V; Algebra I, III, V; geometry; trigonometry; math analysis; and calculus.

Taking great strides in making math classes more desirable, the Math Department acquired a considerable amount of new equipment. Overhead projectors; polar, trigonometric, and rectangular graft boards; space figures, the hyperboloid and the hyperbolic paraboloid (used for math analysis) all added to more beneficial and comprehensive math courses.

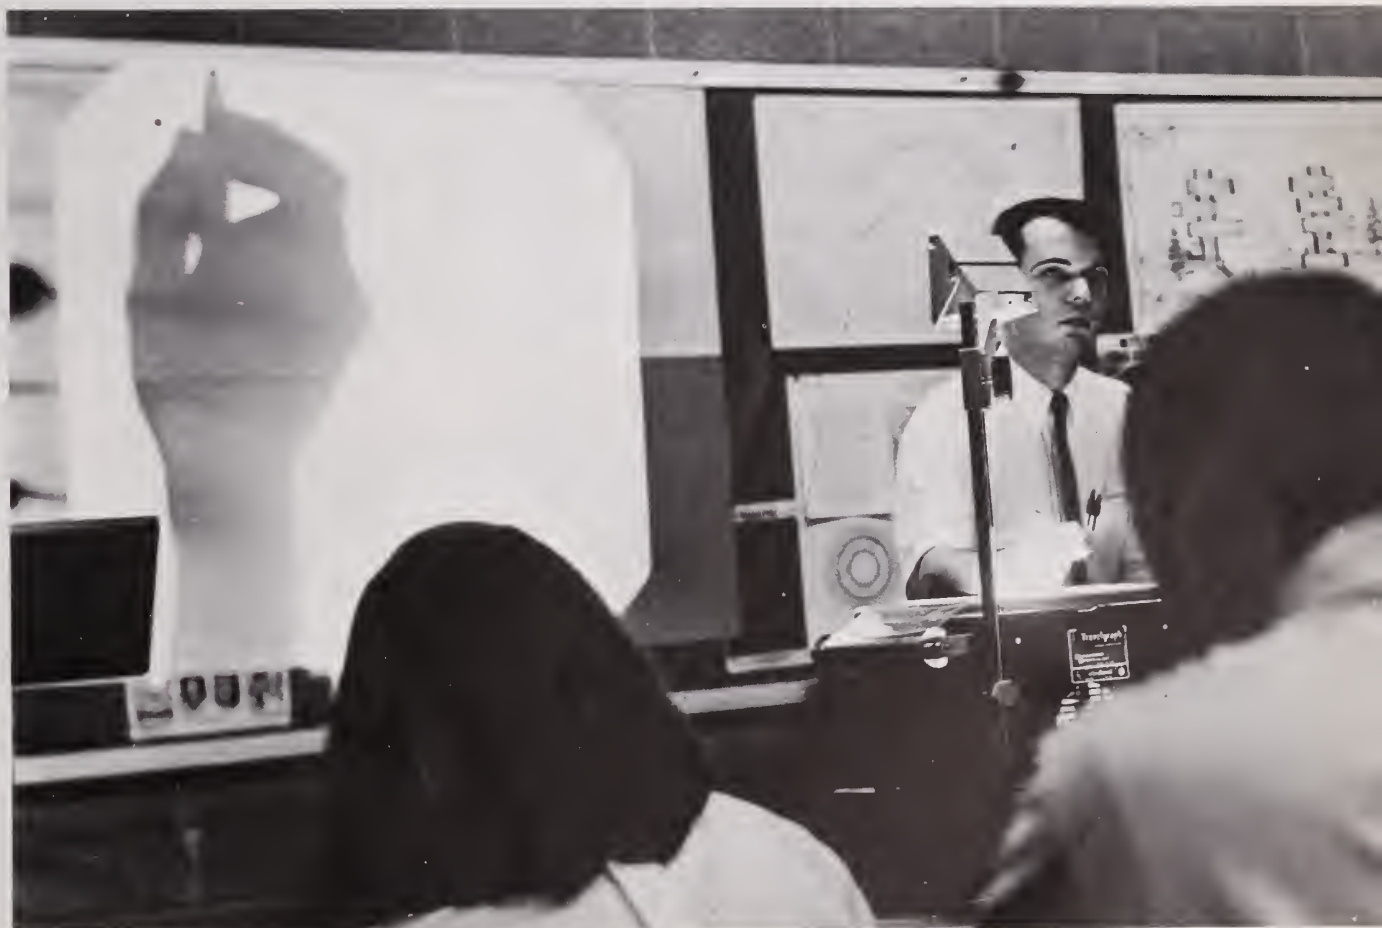

Outside the classroom, the Math Department partook in the National Mathematics Contest for the third year. Also, for the math enthusiasts, a new Math Club was organized by Mr. Keith Stewart and Mr. John Hoerter.

Richard Shelton demonstrates a geometric proof in his class. Even young men, such as Ricky Butler, discover that mathematics are needed, especially in Algebra classes. Using an overhead projector, Mr. Drummond works a trigonometry problem proving "Math IS Fun."

Science

Caverns, Rabbits Promote Interest

Painfully reminding everyone within smelling distance of its presence, Mrs. Hughes' Senior Chemistry class ploughed through another year of chemicals, formulas, and experiments. Under its co-heads Mr. James MacNeil and Mrs. Betty Ward, Warwick's Science Department covered a large field of sciences which came under the main headings of chemistry, biology, and physics. To stimulate a deeper interest and establish a better understanding, all of these classes enjoyed the extensive lab facilities and brightened at the prospect of conducting their own experiments. Field trips were also one of the more enjoyed processes of learning offered to the science classes.

Whether completed by an individual or a small group effort, projects took up where the classroom stopped and promoted individual research and initiative.

French-Spanish

Students Learn About "Puckering", Madadores

Studying the primary techniques of conversation, first year French and Spanish students often found that certain phrases and sentences were continually on their mind. The new textbooks ordered by Mrs. Ruth Curtis for all the language courses arrived and were immediately put to use. First and third year students received the new texts; however, second year students carried on in the original ones. Since they had been versed in the old first year books, it seemed wise to make the change-over in the third year. In most of the advanced classes, the students read and translated novels written by some of the most famous French or Spanish authors. Through these volumes, students studied the life and cultures of the common people in greater detail and became more appreciative of the language they studied.

Action Encompasses Study of Languages

Who says Latin is a dead language?

It is quite obvious that those who do have never participated in any of Warwick's Latin classes. Besides their grammar, the first year students also included in their study the many facts concerning the Roman's pagan religion and gods. Students in the second and third year became involved with Roman literature, history, and mythology.

Beginning German students struggled mainly with an introduction to grammar and the speaking of the language. Folk songs learned by the second year group served as enjoyable pauses in their study of more difficult grammar. Third year also took time from their literature studies to learn and sing songs. Pronunciation tapes and frequent trips to the language lab, assisted the German students, as it did other language students, in proper pronunciation and memorization of grammar rules and techniques.

Mrs. Oliver instructs her students in the tenses of "porto". While Betty Barger displays a beer mug, Lou Ann Rohrer, Evelyn Springfield, and Debbie Wright model old German attire. Miss Hundley gives out one of her frequent quizzes.

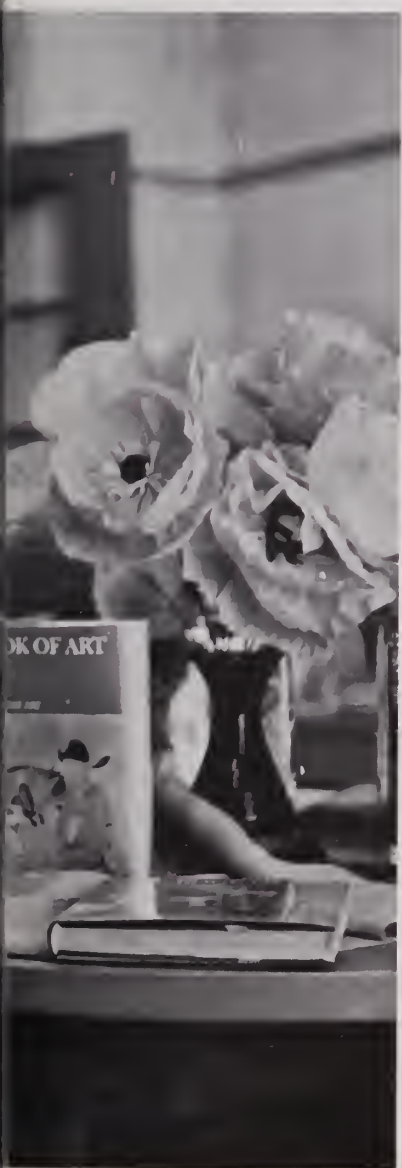

Library assistant, Pat Coffey, studies the library shelves for a certain book. Larry Schulte and Phillip Hamilton become engrossed in "Biographies." In the Audio-Visual room, Estella Thomas looks through one of the many new books displayed by the library.

Library

Character Exposed Through New Materials

"Books don't simply vanish! Somebody GOOFED!"—a common happening during the first few weeks of school as the student library assistants began learning the complicated, behind-the-scene tasks of a librarian.

Audio-visual equipment, such as overhead projectors, filmstrip and slide projectors, and a wide variety of speech, music, social studies, poetry, and literature recordings and filmstrips broadened the library's sources. Besides equipment, a wealth of new books was added to Warwick's collection and was introduced with a colorful display in the audio-visual room.

Assisting Mrs. Mary Harmon and Mrs. Jane McMurran this year was Mrs. Hubbard, who, serving as clerk, supervised the tallying up of the daily circulation record, the processing of books, and audio-visual materials.

Seated for a meal, hesitant ninth graders sample the results of their cooking efforts. Cooking talents are exhibited in a tasty creation conglomerated by seniors, Linda Martin and Frank Tudela. Doll clothes, made by the home ec classes for the Salvation Army Christmas Charity, are proudly displayed by Marcia Smith and Debbie Creel. Evelyn Sparks cooks a dish for credit in her home economics class.

Home Economics

Cooking, Cleaning Fun . . . For Boys???

Venturing into a home ec course, senior boys added a new and often humorous class to the home economics department. Taught by Mrs. Effie Hoyle, the senior boy and girl class offered instructions not only on cooking but also on interior decorating, home building, and preparing for marriage.

Other home economics classes were exposed to a wide variety of subjects in addition to those of cooking and sewing. First year students studied methods of child care, etiquette and grooming, while second year studied home nursing and kitchen planning. Third year planned a color scheme for a room as fourth year viewed and discussed houseplans and tailored either a suit or a coat. Climaxing the career of homemaking was the fifth year, during which seniors chose between making a prom gown or draperies, or refinishing furniture.

Vocational Education Experience Gained Through Workshops, Jobs

Learning how to succeed in the business world was the major element in the business courses. With supervisor Mr. Robert Hasinger, Warwick's Business Department undertook bookkeeping, recordkeeping, typewriting, shorthand, and general business courses. If a student in advanced typing and the second and final year of shorthand wished to further his knowledge in the field of business, his next step would be into VOT. Vocational Office Training courses employed the use of calculators, bookkeeping theory and its application, advanced filing, and transcribing machines. In bookkeeping and recordkeeping, students learned the procedures concerned with the upkeep of office management. Described as "pre-vocational," the general business course covered insurance, banking, investments, buying a home, advertising, and business letter writing.

Demonstrating the parts of an automobile transmission is VOTEC student, Ralph Colon. Some deep concentration is required for typing, but it can be fun as shown by Priscilla Weatherford.

Mr. Hasinger reads to his business class a handbook on "record-keeping." Ambitious young ladies receive their instructions of General Business from Mrs. Burcher, head of the Business Department.

A member of VO-Tech, Bill Cherry displays his knowledge in working with machinery. ## Vocational Education

Selling, Marketing Procedures Explained Taught

In conjunction with the Business Department, the Distributive Education Program under Mr. Jerry Kohout was offered to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Through the on-the-job training it provided, the juniors and seniors attained conscientious salesmanship skills.

Another form of DE was the ICT classes. The Industrial Cooperative Training Program's main objective was to combine the training resources of Warwick and the community. Under ICT's arrangements with local business, industrial, and professional establishments, the establishments furnished part-time employment and training to students during school hours, while the school furnished the technical subject matter related to the occupation.

Also under the DE Department, vocational and technical education classes were held at the Virginia Peninsula Vocational-Technical Education Center in the city of Hampton.

Overhead Projectors Effective Teaching Aid

Industriously scrubbing erasers into nonexistence, the drafting classes acquired a year of knowledge under department head Mr. William Jones. In the wood department, Mr. Earl Barton guided his advanced class in the construction of a bulletin board for the physical education department and trophy cases for the PTA.

The major achievement of the metal shop classes was the completion of a mini-bike. Supervising these classes, Mr. Jerry Gregg acquainted his students with various types of metal and the methods used in working with them.

The electricity and electronics classes busied themselves with the building of guitar amplifiers and with the study of transmitters and generators. Having Mr. Charles Brown as their instructor, the students received a wide knowledge of this field and learned how to apply it.

Drama-Art

Skill Originality Prerequisites In Fine Arts

Art was one of the most enjoyable courses of Warwick. Jewelry making was the specialty in Mrs. Adelaide Carson's classes while, next, Mr. Kenneth Bowen's students sculptured in an assortment of materials. With the predominant media of ceramics and textiles, Mr. Neal Britton's classes worked with clay and weaving. Painting was taken up by Mr. Barclay Sheaks, department manager, whose classes encountered a variety of media.

History of the stage, make-up, and stage movement were the subjects taught by Mrs. Esther Burch to her drama students. The classes listened to drama directors from both Newport News and Hampton Roads and do critical analyses of their stage techniques. In drama class there was always a new approach and this year's resulted in the excellent performances of the All School Play and the Contest Play.

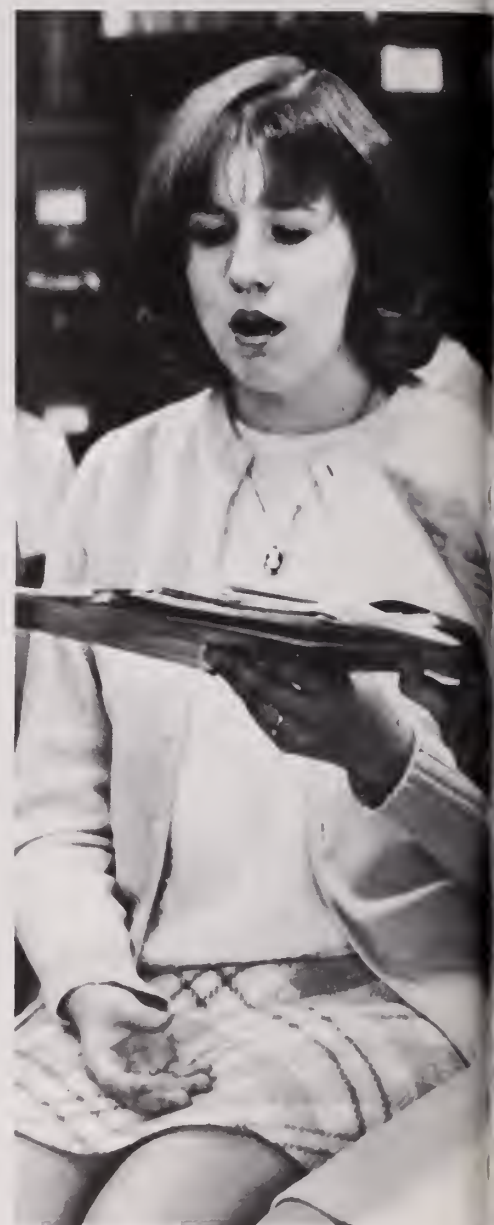

Creating a new masterpiece is a tedious project for Kaye Plaster in Mr. Bowen's sculpturing class. John Stark and Linda Martin check out a part during a dress rehearsal for the play "Home Sweet Homicide." Mrs. Burch shows grave concern over a scene in the fall play. Mr. Sheaks demonstrates action sketching to his first period art class.

Music

"Note" Taking Now Ranks As Number Two

Second only to the field of sports, music was a well supported field at Warwick. With work of the combined choruses and the two bands, music played an important role in the school's many happenings.

General music, Girls' and Male Choruses, and A Cappella Choir occupied the hours of Mr. William Tew's school day. The cultivation of good music skills prevailed over all his classes. General music centered on reading music, music theory, and the history of instruments, while singing was stressed in the choruses and choir.

Meanwhile, the Maroon Band, patiently directed by Mr. James Robinson, continued to provide a steady stream of new members for the big band.

Mr. Lyle Smith, head of the Music Department, directed and marched Warwick's Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps through an active season.

Sore Muscles Prove Exercise Needed

Casual tell-tale limps and occasional groans at the beginning of the year characterized the gym students who had experienced a rather inactive summer. In the girls' department, headed by Miss Roena McJunkin, the eighth graders enjoyed a year of physical education. The curriculum of the freshmen involved a year of physical education with two six-weeks of health. Having passed a health course, sophomores received a pause in their year of gym for a six-weeks of drivers' education. Juniors took one semester of mental health and one of physical education.

At the other end of the school, the boys trained under head coach Jim Snow. Following the same line of study as that of the girls' gym classes, the boys also helped with such things as moving tables for school dances, marking the field, and readying their gym for pep assemblies.

Fencing techniques are practiced by junior girls in gym. The boys' gym class practices a game of soccer. Coach Good prepares for his next P.E. class and begins by checking the roll. Girls' and boys' gym classes view a film on health careers.

Happenings In Activities

Happenings . . . all common to a Warwick student. Wednesday mornings' congress . . . the production of the three publications.

In the relaxed atmosphere of after school life, students gathered in organizations with others who had interests similar to theirs in SCA committees, class committees, department committees . . . a situation which resulted in new acquaintances and a better idea of how to work with others . . . planning and carrying out projects and activities for the benefit of the members . . . money making projects to strengthen the treasury and accomplish a goal. Happenings created by the students and sponsored by the faculty that helped establish school unity by drawing students of common interests together, helped students become more aware of their abilities and interests.

The Student Cooperative Association

Responsibilities Fall on Student Leaders

"New blood" could very well have described the executive council for '68. Headed by Lanny Ackiss, President, the council worked to eliminate student apathy. Other officers of the council were Jim McAtamney, Vice-President; Suzanne Morgan, Secretary; and Sharon Wiseman, Treasurer. With their untiring efforts, the SCA's major projects — Orientation, Homecoming, Farmer Week, "Know your SCA Week", the Leadership Training Supper, and Christmas Spirit Week—were tremendous successes.

As heads of the SCA, these four, along with faculty advisors, Miss Elena Armistead and Mr. William Williams, formed the Executive Branch of the SCA. Next under this branch was the main body of government, the Legislative Branch, better known as Congress. The Honor Council, or Judicial Branch, completed the Warwick student government.

Committees Promote School Pride

Orientation, being the first project of the year, found a well-supported committee that worked hard all summer to present an interesting program for the mice and new students. August 28 found WHS swarming with eighth graders, there to find their homerooms, their senior Big Brothers and Sisters, and to enjoy a program organized by committee head, Carolyn Wall. The work of the Orientation Committee didn't end there, though, for they assisted new students that entered the school during the year.

Next on the agenda was "Know Your SCA Week" planned by the Senate for October. This project had the goal of acquainting the student body with the SCA and its government. Two outstanding students from the eighth to the twelfth grade along with a branch of the SCA were spotlighted each day throughout the week.

Senior Students and their dates obviously enjoy appearing on the Disc-O-Ten television show. The traditional-looking Farmer, constructed by the sophomore class, encourages Farmer fight and spirit. Enthusiastically building a giant-size Farmer, sophomores poke paper napkins into the chickenwire form. A mass of teenagers, the Sing-Out group of Hampton Roads waits for a cue from the director.

Active Year Produces Many Changes

Service committees played an important part in student life at Warwick. Heading up the list was the Social Committee. This committee, co-ordinated by Regina Nunnally, organized the Student-Faculty Teas and sponsored various service projects.

Posters announcing an SCA project were the responsibilities of the Publicity Committee and its competent leader Susan Rex. Bulletin Boards added to the improvement of Warwick's halls and Helen McAtamney took charge of this active committee.

Bonnie Tilson headed the Remembrance Committee which had the purpose of sending cards to all who were sick or a card of sympathy to some. Keeping the halls noise free during lunch periods was the job of the Halls and Corridors Committee. Directing this challenging committee was D'Arcy Phillips, chairman.

For members of the Pep Committee, work is just beginning after school hours as they prepare spirit posters before the Kecoughtan game. Collecting and placing toys for needy children around the SCA Christmas tree represents the concern shown by the student body during Christmas Spirit Week.

One of the various duties of the Inner Club Council is to schedule class dances and club activities. Dressed up in duds and frills, spirited students and teachers exhibit their interest in SCA sponsored Farmer Day.

SCA

Student Co-operation Exhibited

After the victory over Motoaca High on the football field, the crowning of Pat Coffey as queen, and the completion of the traditional dance, Warwick's first homecoming at Todd Stadium was termed a complete success. Meeting obstacle after obstacle in the planning of half-time activities and dance decorations, committee head Kathy Barclay came through with a beautiful homecoming.

Spirit! It hit you with the signs, posters, and the traditional W carefully prepared by the pep committee. Most Thursday afternoons, one could find students working hard on posters—with paint on the floor and on themselves, but with ingenuity on the paper. Sparked by spirited Pat Coffey and sponsor, Miss Nancy Makela, the committee worked to boost the morale of the teams and the enthusiasm of the student body.

Enthusiasm, Stamina Shown in Spirit

Enthusiastic, vivacious, zealous, energetic, spirited, arduous . . . hoarse, literally speechless . . . all of these words were appropriate in describing Warwick's Varsity Cheerleaders. Possessing the major qualities of enthusiasm and stamina, these girls led Warwick crowds in cheers at pep rallies, and at football and basketball games. The ten girl squad cheered at all football games but only half were permitted on the basketball court.

This year maroon culotte dresses with gold turtle-neck shirts were worn by the varsity squad in many pep rallies and by the girls not cheering at the basketball games.

As seniors, Donna Burnette, Co-Captain, Suzanne Morgan, Co-Captain, Carolyn Wall, and Kathy Barclay experienced their last year of cheering at Warwick. Under the leadership of Miss Mary McClenny, they enjoyed a year of fun and excitement.

JV Cheerleaders

Vivacious Leaders Spark Teams

With their ultimate goal being a position on the varsity squad, the girls in their gold jumpers tirelessly led the cheering crowds. These girls, Warwick's JV Cheerleaders, encouraged Farmer fighting spirit at all JV football and basketball games. During varsity football games they helped to sell programs, and, standing in the bleachers, helped to lead cheers. Co-Captains Mary Neal and Mary Albertson managed the squad and cheered the JV football team to a second place district win. Miss Nancy Heath guided the group as their sponsor and served as chaperone at away games.

To become a JV cheerleader, each girl had to compete at tryouts held in late spring of the previous school year. Upon careful elimination, the ten member squad was selected. Serving as examples of true fighting Farmers, they were a tremendous asset to the boys in sports.

Controversies Stimulate Happenings

"Annual staff has been using our glue again!" Sharing one room, Earle and annual staff frequently complained. Under the capable leadership of Brenda Franklin, the Earle showed a new facet of its importance by such articles as "As I See It." Letters to the editor provided a more controversial outlook on school life and activities. Planning each Earle was not an easy task. There were features to be organized and chosen, other articles to be written and typed, and all typed material had to be glued to "dummy" sheets. Also of importance was the sale of ads.

The Earle had special issues such as one circulated to promote school spirit before the Ferguson-Warwick football game.

The final result of the hard work involved and the enthusiasm of the sponsor, Miss Emily Shenk, proved to be a successful newspaper in which Warwick was proud.

Magazine Strives For New Look

Upon enrolling in Miss Lois Callahan's Advanced Composition course, students automatically became a member of the Plough staff, also sponsored by Miss Callahan. The class was offered only to sophomores, juniors, and seniors. A six weeks of diagnostic writing started the year, with the students reading and commenting on each other's writing. At the end of the six weeks, the students were able to determine the writing aptitude of their classmates and the ten editors and their nine assistants were elected.

The Plough staff accepted contributions, representative of all grade levels, in short stories, plays, poems, essays, features, articles, and art work. Unfortunately, financial shortcomings allowed only one Plough edition. Working during class and after school, the staff compiled the chosen material into their spring edition.

Staff Captures Last Look of Old School

A small light penetrated the darkness of Warwick High. A jumbling of voices and the distinct tapping of typewriters echoed through the hallway. It was annual deadline time again!

Furiously working to record the happenings of the school year was a staff of seven senior editors, six junior apprentices, and one very understanding sponsor, Mr. Leslie Howell. There were pictures to be taken, developed, printed, and cropped; copy to be written; layouts to be designed; and a sum of headlines, cutlines, and picture identifications to be made.

After the last brown-papered bundle of drafts was shipped in answer to the publisher's deadline, there was a brief rest before the books arrived. On seeing the students reflecting the joy of the year's memories, the annual staff felt proud to have done its school the service of producing The Warwick—1968.

Awards Spotlight Work, Precision

Displaying full uniforms, Mr. Smith discusses new formations with Bert Miller, Grenadier Drum Major, and Robert Edberg, Bagpipe Drum Major.

Happenings—Great Happenings occurred with the WHS Grenadier Band and Bagpipe Corps during the '67-'68 year. Parades in Winchester, Alexandria, Washington, and local parades; special performances at the Tobacco Festival and for President Johnson, combined to make an eventful and rewarding season. The valuable skill gained during these experiences enabled three outstanding band members to represent Warwick in the Regional Band. In Workshop, Warwick had two delegates.

Leadership in the band was continued by Mr. Lyle Smith and the Grenadiers finished a second year with Bert Miller as Drum Major. The Bagpipe Corps heralded their new Drum Major, Robert Edberg. In its second year as an SCA organization, the band's officers were Meryl Moore, President; Gene Pointer, Vice-President; and Peggy Brennan, Secretary.

JV Band — Bagpipe Corps

Practice . . . Hard Work Make . . . Music

"Practice makes perfect" could well have been the theme of this year's Maroon Band. Under the direction of Mr. James L. Robison, the bandsmen prepared for their big step up to the Grenadiers. Parades in Williamsburg, Newport News, and Hampton kept the band active throughout the year. Fall activities centered around performances at the J.V. Football games. Hard work but lots of fun proved the initiative of the junior bandsmen.

Swirling kilts and squealing bagpipes heralded the coming of the Warwick High School Bagpipe Corps. Marching with the Grenadier Band, the corps also participated in local parades and out-of-town parades as well as special performances by the corps alone. Technique was the major fundamental of the corps and director, Mr. Lyle Smith, saw to it that each member of the corps developed the mastery of the bagpipe.

Determined members of the Maroon Band consist of, row 1: James L. Robison, Lee Vaughan, Brian Cooper, Craig Moore, Lynn McCarron, Denise Denton, Barbra Baker, Pat Higgins, Renee Conlay, Buffy Russell, and Ronnie Greene. row 2: Steve Wigginton, Danny Fields, James Dunlap, George Barlow, Neil Spiers, Mike Cox, Monty Montgomery, Tim Harrison, John McCormick,

A Cappella

"Aunt Jemima" Receives Top Billing

"There's only one thing worse . . . and that's no Aunt Jemimas at all." Whenever A Cappella members gathered, they were always singing—including their theme song, the Aunt Jemima pancake jingle!

The year began with a group trip to Luray Caverns. Later in October, the choir presented the Fall Concert.

With Christmas came the choir's busiest season. Concerts were given for local civic organizations and for the James River Nursing home. For the second year, A Cappella was honored with an invitation from WYAH-TV to sing on their Christmas program. They also presented the traditional Christmas concert and assembly for the school.

Mr. William Tew directed the choir while Connie Norris served as President. Concluding the year was the Spring Concert, traditionally presented the night before the prom.

Male and Girls' Choruses

Students Strive for Harmony in Song

Proudly displaying their white sweaters, Warwick's Male Chorus undertook their two biggest tasks: practicing and performing. In addition to the enjoyment they derived from singing, the chorus acquired new musical knowledge as they prepared for each upcoming concert. Bill Brenner, president of the group, helped William Tew plan their activities.

Also conducted by Mr. Tew, the Girls' Chorus presented both familiar and unfamiliar compositions in concerts. Janice Adkins was president of the chorus and, with the other officers, maintained the group's organization.

In February select chorus members participated in workshop chorus at Kecoughtan. During second semester, Mr. Tew instructed both choruses on music theory, which later helped them to sight-read new music more easily, and rhythms, which helped in singing new or difficult compositions.

Key Club, Monogram

Abilities, Honors, Skills, Aims Achieved

Supplementing physical fitness stressed by the athletic teams, the Monogram Club, sponsored by Mr. Guy Quisenbury, centered on leadership, sportsmanship and pride in one's team. Headed by President Don Blume, the organization managed and financed the football programs. This work began in the summer with the members selling over $1000 of ads. Profits made from this major project went to pay half the cost of Monogram jackets for new members. A banquet in May was also attributed to these gains.

"Serve with integrity" was the deserving theme for the Key Club this year. Led by Chuck Pinnell, the club met every other week and worked on such projects as collecting money for Muscular Dystrophy. They also supported and helped the March of Dimes campaign. Mr. John Tudor and Mr. Jim Robinson acted as sponsors.

Hi-Y, Jr. Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y

Service Projects Stimulate Citizenship

Singing Christmas carols at Riverside Nursing Home and selling poppies were two projects undertaken by the Tri-Hi-Y during the year. October 10 saw all the members attending a district conference at Maury High. Later came a visit to the YMCA Model General Assembly in Richmond.

Presided over by David Terry and sponsored by Mr. Neal Drummond, the Hi-Y planned their activities. The Hi-Y sponsored their traditional Miss Warwick Hi-Y Pageant and Christmas dance. Participation in all projects earned a select few the right to represent their club at the YMCA Model General Assembly, where a trial bill was introduced for discussion. Also sponsored by Mr. Drummond, the Junior Hi-Y participated in the Junior Hi-Y Conference in Lynchburg. Senior Jack Howard again acted as student advisor for the group during the year.

Upholding high ideals, the Junior Hi-Y members are

Helping Others Gives Self-Satisfaction

Executing their motto "We serve" to the utmost, Warwick's Keyettes performed various services for their school and community. Experience in living and working together stemmed from projects such as collecting contributions for the Heart Fund and Muscular Dystrophy. In December, by making and filling stockings for hospital patients and holding a party for underprivileged children, the Keyettes swung into the Christmas spirit. President Anna Roberson and sponsor Mrs. Carolyn Simmons helped the club to organize their activities.

Youth for Christ was sponsored again by Mrs. Ruby Hazelwood, with Sandra Karam as president. Being non-denominational, Youth for Christ helped its members to respect an individual for his own merits. The club participated in programs and quizzes held by the Peninsula Youth for Christ.

Service-minded members of Keyettes include, row 1: Anna Roberson, Melinda Lewis, Susan Stutz, Wanda Forrest, Esther Martin, Peggy Brennan, and Martha Little. row 2: Mrs. Carolyn Simmons, Phyllis Gray, Carol Freda, Elinor Preston, Carole Roper, Christie Holland, Sandy Moore, and Sharon Dickinson. row 3:

Discussion is an important part of each Keyette meeting. Barbara Herring quietly contemplates a motion on the floor as other members freely discuss the matter.

Programs and Varied Activities Fulfilled

"... to interest students in personal and community health..."—this statement from the Future Nurses' Club gives an accurate account of the group's activities. Sponsored by Miss Nancy Heath and led by Phyllis Gray, speakers were lined up and projects were planned for the new year. The girls collaborated with the Kiwanis Club to give the Riverside Nursing Home a Christmas party. Following the party, the club visited bedridden patients.

According to their purpose, the Future Teachers performed services for the school and the community. The students brightened the teacher's lounges with flowers, and each month selected a Teacher of the Month who was spotlighted by the Earle. Mrs. Adelaid Carson and Christie Holland co-ordinated their projects, such as a dance, student-teaching, a banquet, and trips to the club's counterpart at Old Dominion.

As future teachers are inducted into FTA, a new meaning is found during the candle-lighting ceremony. Girls represented in FNA who wish to become nurses are, row 1: Lynn Owens, Susan Bondurant, Phyllis Gray, and Debbie Bruner. row 2: Vanessa Thomas, Debbie Cutzer, Julia Jordan, and Marilyn Horsley. row 3: Debbie Marable, Vanessa Gardner, Ann Tucker, Darlene Gallant, and Barbara Haywood.

sythe, Nancy Smith, Melinda Lewis, and Anne Barlowe. row 4: Debbie Marable, Diane Klarer, Carol Freda, Regina Nunnally, Pat Coffey, Anne Ryan, Debbie Breault, Gail Smith, Barbara Hand, and Maryanne Petty.

Quick Wits Prove Essential to Success

It's your move—as members of the Warwick High Chess Club had been outmaneuvering their opponents in championship style. Under the direction of Mr. Tew and president Dale Bateman, club members worked hard to improve their games in order to compete for places on the Chess Team. This Chess Team was successful in competition against the other schools in the Peninsula Chess League. In all, the Warwick High chessmen ranked high in the standings.

How to stand and think on your feet was one of the many factors taught to the Debate Team. With the experienced guidance of Miss Waverly Hundley, the debators have entered between six to ten tournaments each year. These were held at the area high schools and at colleges and universities. Spirited debates helped to quicken the individual's wits and to broaden his knowledge of current national problems.

Stretching their minds, Gene Gordy and Robert Edberg concentrate on the next move to be taken. After school on Wednesdays, one can find members, such as Jim Jordan and Jeff Jordan, practicing their chess maneuvers as an interested student observes. Talented members of the Chess Club are, row 1: Jim Jordan, Mike Tarpley, Dale Bateman, and George Tucker. row 2: Pete Richerson, Thomas Libby, Lee Gregory, Jeff Jordan, and Mike Kirkpatrick. row 3: Craig Wright, Travis Williams, Jimmy Nichols, David Robinson, Robert Shelton, and Robert Edberg.

Science Club

Oyster Point, Lurray Caverns Wield Interest

Movement and progress were the key words of this year's Science Club. For the first time, the Science Club enrollment surpassed all other clubs at ninety. The purpose of this organization is to promote the knowledge of science and an understanding of the importance of science in daily life.

Under the watchful guidance of Mrs. Betty Ward and Mrs. Audrene Hughes, the Science Club participated in many field trips and projects. Organized by President D'Arcy Phillips, the club's excursions included a trip to the Sarah Bonwell Hudgins Regional Center, a trip to Lurray Caverns, a visit to the Peninsula Junior Nature Museum and Planetarium, and a field trip to the fish hatcheries at Oyster Point. One of the successful projects was a dance. Also, early in the new year, the club sponsored a science fair for Warwick.

Thespians-Sight and Sound

Sight, Sound Initiates First Year

"Places everyone! Curtain!—and Warwick's Thespians began a display of their acting abilities. This year, three one-act plays were the center of the troop's efforts, one of these to be entered in the district one-act play festival. In order to obtain materials needed for the productions, the members sold doughnuts, ads for programs, and had successful car washes. The president of this club was Linda Martin while Mrs. Burch was sponsor.

Amidst the complicated entanglements of light panels, public address systems, and other stage equipment, the nimble members of the Sight and Sound Corps tended to the numerous backstage tasks accompanying assemblies and plays. This was the first year of the organization. Under the watchful supervision of Mr. William Tew, the selected members saw to it that everything was in working condition.

Happenings In Sports

What makes the students of a school a student body? . . . unity. What creates this unity? . . . school spirit and pride. One of the major areas that attributed to Warwick's great school spirit and pride was its vast field of sports—football, basketball, wrestling, track, tennis, baseball, golf, GRA—all of which demanded untiring effort. Since most of the sports had junior varsity as well as varsity teams, students of all grade levels had a chance to participate in their favorite sport. Working as one, students gathered to paint posters cheering a team to victory, backed their teams during competitions, and some helped form the teams. With the acquisitions of sharper skills and good sportsmanship being their major goals, the teams learned to accept victory as well as defeat graciously.

Girls Keep Fit . . . Compete in Sports Activities

Hockey, volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, archery, track and field—regardless of a girl's preferences, sometime during the year, GRA offered a sport that would interest her. The Girls Recreation Association provided opportunities for skilled as well as unskilled girls to participate in this variety of activities.

Although GRA was not connected with a national group, the girls competed with other schools in the area. Gymnastics and archery were the only sports that the girls participated in statewide meets.

Led by capable officers, Donna Jones—President, Janice Savedge—Vice President, and Wanda Meeks—Secretary, the GRA concluded the year with their traditional picnic. At this time the new officers and sportleaders were announced and installed for the coming year.

Practice

Yields

Satisfaction

In the dead of the summer, practice began for all the boys hoping to be a part of Warwick's football team in the upcoming season. During this time, the boys exercised and practiced about four hours a day, six days a week. Two weeks after the start of the practices, a select team of forty-three was chosen. The grinding practices continued through football season, demanding the greater part of the players' after school time. Since nineteen of the players graduated, it was fortunate that the team had afforded so many boys the chance to play.

Excelling on the field were Co-Captains Jack Howard and Mike Judkins, Greg Park, Jim Snow, Mike Dixon, Randy Jackson, Steve Shippee, and Jim Rider. Head Coach Jim Snow, assisted by coaches Ben Rich, Randy Harrell, and Jim Pickens drilled the boys in offense and defense tactics.

Fighting Spirit, Sportsmanship Rated High

Evading the ranks of Warwick's football team, injuries once again claimed the upper hand in several of the games. Nevertheless, encouraged by Warwick's school spirit, the team battled through six wins and four losses. Running attacks and precise passing resulted in the downfall of Meadowbrook and Denbigh. After falling to Kecoughtan, Warwick came back with an impressive win over the previously unbeaten Matoaca Warriors in the Homecoming game. Upon meeting the Maury Commodors, the Farmers suffered a one-sided defeat. Traveling to York, but rallied with the defeat of the Newport News Typhoons, the Farmers upset the Falcon's Homecoming. Warwick received its third defeat from the Hampton Crabbers but popped back to defeat James Blair. The last football game brought the fourth and the most crushing defeat under Ferguson on Farmer Day.

JV Football

Downpour Ruins Perfect Season

Plagued by injuries as was the varsity team of the previous year, Warwick's great JV's ended their season in second place in the Peninsula District. This was a great feat considering the fact that the Ferguson and Newport News games were played minus six of the first stringers. Coach Hasinger, who was behind the players, felt that they could have had an all winning season had it not been for the downpour at the Hampton game—this hindered things considerably.

Outstanding players which helped carry the team to their place were Joe Ferree, David Spriggs, Craig Nuckles, Bill Cogbill, Bobby Fairbairn, Robert Zodda, and Jerry Horrell.

The unexpected return of sophomores gave the team an extra boost of development. A good season is expected for next year's team due to the extra experience acquired this year.

Team's High Spirit Necessitates Many Overtimes

Whether on the courts or off, the Warwick basketball team was always on the move. Entering into competition with the other area schools in Group 1A, which was supposedly one of the toughest leagues in Virginia this year, the team consisted of six seniors and three juniors. Three of the senior members on the team made up the "height" of the Warwick team. Among these were co-captains Mike Klarer and Doug Briggs. Coached by Wilbur Thompson, the varsity team practiced regularly and prepared for an expected rough season. Not underestimating their talents, the Farmers plunged into the opening game with high hopes and much spirit for the highly rated team. Facing Douglas Freeman for the first game, the Farmers played at home with the non-district school. This marked the beginning of an exciting year for basketball.

Displaying his massive size, Mike Klarer (43) takes a jump shot while three Kecoughtan Warriors appear helpless to defend. Newport News players rush for a possible rebound of Mike Judkin's (11) jump shot. Tongue-sticking determination seems to add to the power of Doug Briggs' (41) jumper. Excited Coach Wilbur Thompson points out new patterns of play for his Farmers.

"Height" of Team Led By Klarer, Briggs, Noland

"... and in the second overtime of the game, Warwick took the lead." This was the condensed story of many of Warwick's varsity basketball games. In their battles with Douglas Freeman and James Blair, the Farmers and their equally matched opponents pulled the game into two overtimes. Determination and perseverance won the James Blair game but failed to overcome the Douglas Freeman Rebels. If you think a game dragging into two overtimes was hectic, try one with three overtimes! Meeting the Granby Commodores in the Norfolk Arena, the Farmers battled through three harassing overtimes before they could claim victory.

The varsity squad was relatively small this year with only eight regular players. With tremendous school support throughout the season, they completed the season winning eight of their eighteen games.

Desire Adds Inches Toward Wins

"Do you have that run-down feeling due to iron-poor blood?" NOT ON YOUR LIFE! This earth-shattering answer came from the triumphant JV basketball squad at the end of a most successful season. Although the flu and a couple turned ankles slowed a few of these boys, it wasn't able to repress the spirit of the remainder of the squad; and with the combined efforts of the team and Coach Neil Hodges, they ended with an outstanding record. Out of fifteen hardfought games, the JV's emerged from nine victorious, topping the record earlier predicted.

Although the members of this action-packed team were a little on the short side, their desire mixed with determination proved that inches was not the only element required in a game of basketball. Thus, a good year came to an end, as did a year of hard work and outstanding results.

Streaking past a threatening Crabber, player Frankie Sublett moves into a pre-planned path of action. Recordbreaking members of the JV Basketball team include, row 1: Joey Ferree, Ronnie Vick, Monnie Laughinghouse, and Frankie Sublett. row 2: Jon Hatch, Donny Lockhart, Eddie Whitlock, Billy Rohrer, Dan Frank, and Howard Hamilton. row 3: Coach Hodges, John Hayes, and Craig Nuckles. Delicately explaining team tactics, Coach Hodges prepares his team for a real fight. High-jumping Craig Nuckles (55) gains control of a jump-shot against Denbigh.

Hustle, Determination Spark Farmer Wins

"... and if any team wants to beat us, they're really gonna have to hustle!" concluded indoor and outdoor track coach Ben Rich. Thundering down the main hall after school, the indoor tracksters prepared for their short season. They concluded their area meets with two wins and one loss, placed second in the district, and second in the state. The boys consistent in their winnings were seniors Greg Parks and Brian Jones; juniors Jim Abicht, Wayne Woodard, Mike Deal, Barry White, and Terry Martin; and sophomores David Barry and Bill Cogbill. The 1056 relay team, Ronnie Fama, Greg Parks, Steve Van Huss, and John Gustin finished the season undefeated.

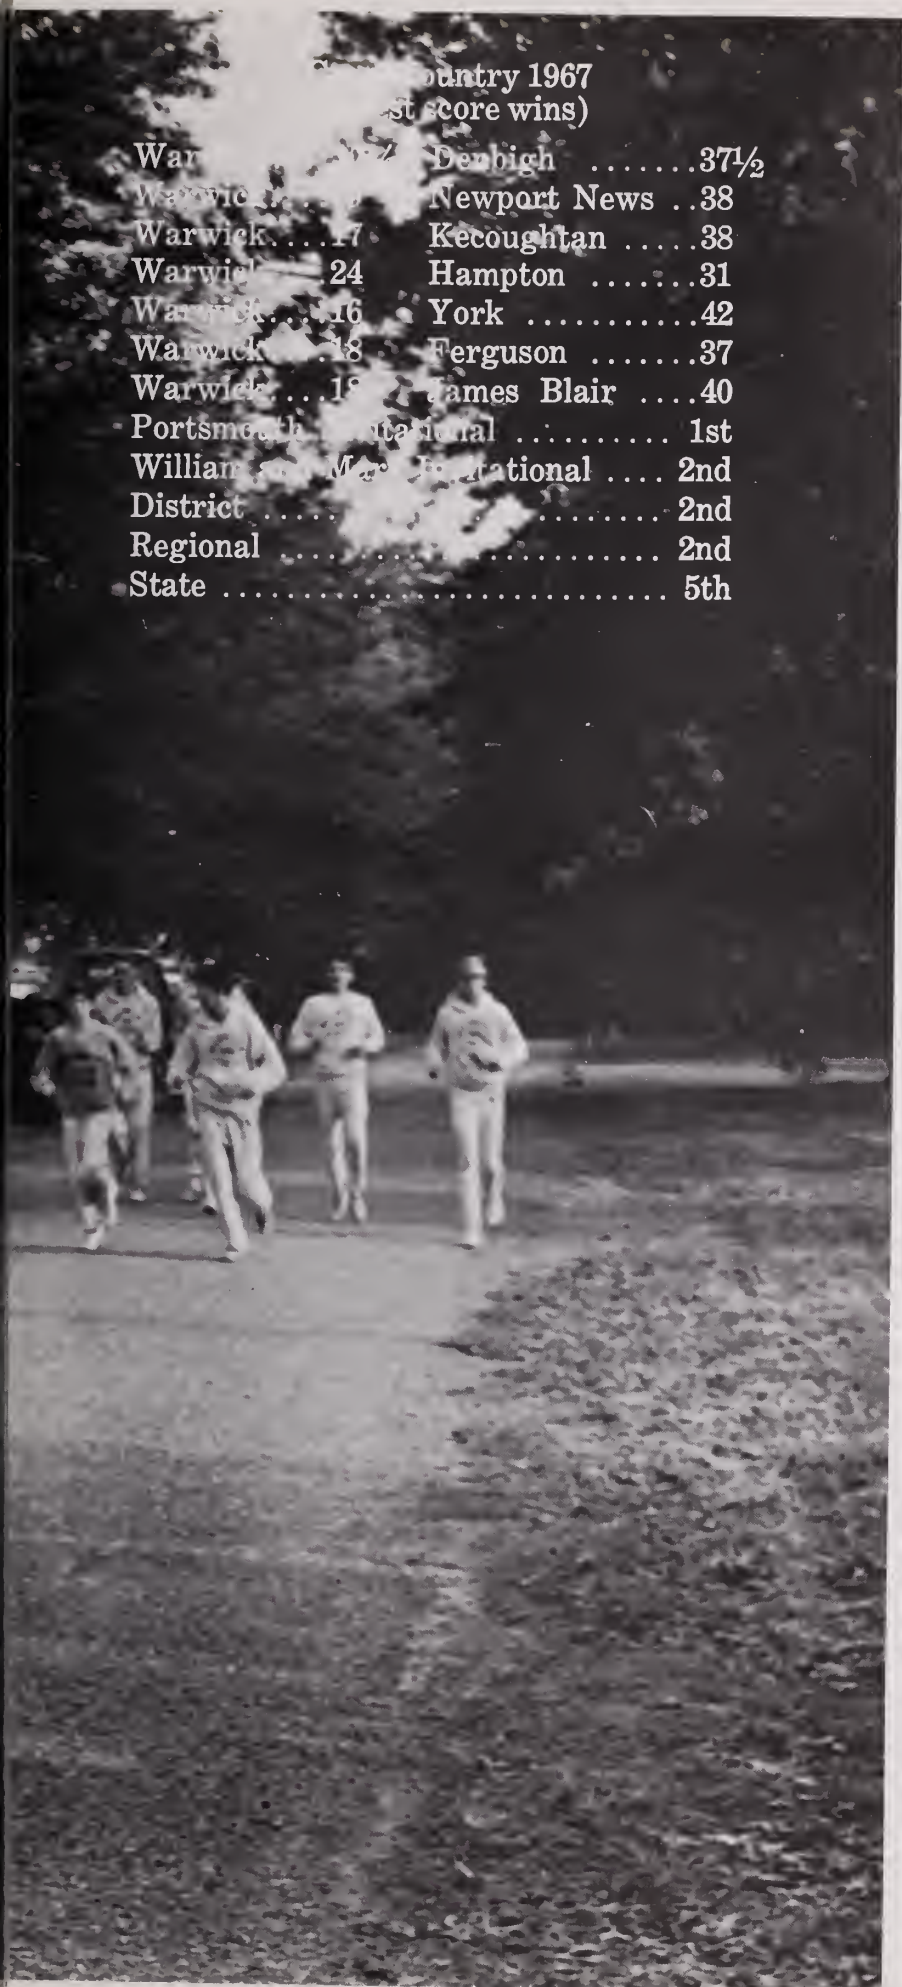

Outdoor workouts began soon after exams to condition the boys for the spring meets. Daily treks through Mariners' Museum and weight lifting helped build up endurance and strength.

Farmers Make Best Country Boys

Over the meadow and through the woods to . . . grandmother's house??? Nope. To victory! This was the story as Warwick's cross country team finished their season with seven wins and no losses. With a record like that, the team's coach Ron Good had just reason to be proud. Handing Newport News High its first defeat in many years was only one of the feats accomplished by the team. The boys managed a first place in the Portsmouth Invitational in September. Traveling to the William and Mary Invitational, the runners placed second. Although the boys had a perfect season, when the district came up in October, the tracksters ended with a second. Second best was again the Farmers in the Regional Meet. Finally, running against some 250 opponents in the State Meet, Warwick finished fifth. Captain of the returning lettermen was Brian Jones.

"The quick ones" of Cross Country are, row 1: Brian Jones, Steve Pittman, and Jim Abicht. row 2: Wayne Woodard, Steve Biles, Mike Deal, and Joe Fleck. Chewing and pondering, Coach Rich squints as runners round the opposite side of the track. Endless task of running . . . running . . . running grasps cross country team as they practice at Mariners Museum Park.

Baseball Inexperienced Mound Staff Single Weakness

Hampered by a sudden cold snap, baseball practice began March first. Following this day came a month of conditioning before Warwick's Varsity team began their competition in late March. Reinforced by able Charlie Williams and Mike Judkins, the team came off the field with fine sportsmanship and playing to its credit. Such experienced players as Scott Crane, Larry Andreoli, Mike Plott, Randy Jackson, and Doug Wrenn added tremendously to the team's effort. Stepping up from the JV squad were Mike Dixon, Joey Feree, Ronald Vick, David Merritt, Jim Wright, Ronnie Gregory.

The team's major weakness lay in the fact that their pitchers had graduated the year before. But with their strong defense of experienced players, speed and hard-hitting the varsity squad tried to compensate for their vulnerability.

Eighty-four Compete For Prized Positions

"Now can all of you hear me? . . . all eighty-four of you?" shouted Coach Randy Harrell at JV Baseball tryouts. From the start, one thing was sure, the team was bound to be a good one with such a tremendous number of baseball enthusiasts from which to choose.

Depending mainly on the appearance of eighth graders, but also relying on the old members, the new team learned and improved along with their new coach.

The pitching department had a good returnee in Henry Connell. His speed and quick thinking provided a good basis for the team, while Bobby Fairburn returned to keep up the backbone of the team playing the position of shortstop. Catcher and left field were capably filled by Donnie Gregory and Roy Duncan, also former JV's. New talent was spotted in Burce Ruidy and Mike Roberts as they added their abilities to the team.

Wrestling

Myers, Horrell, Bailey Perform At State

Slap!!! was the sound of the referee's hand slamming down another pin for Warwick. While wrestling is an individual sport, points gained during a match count for the entire team.

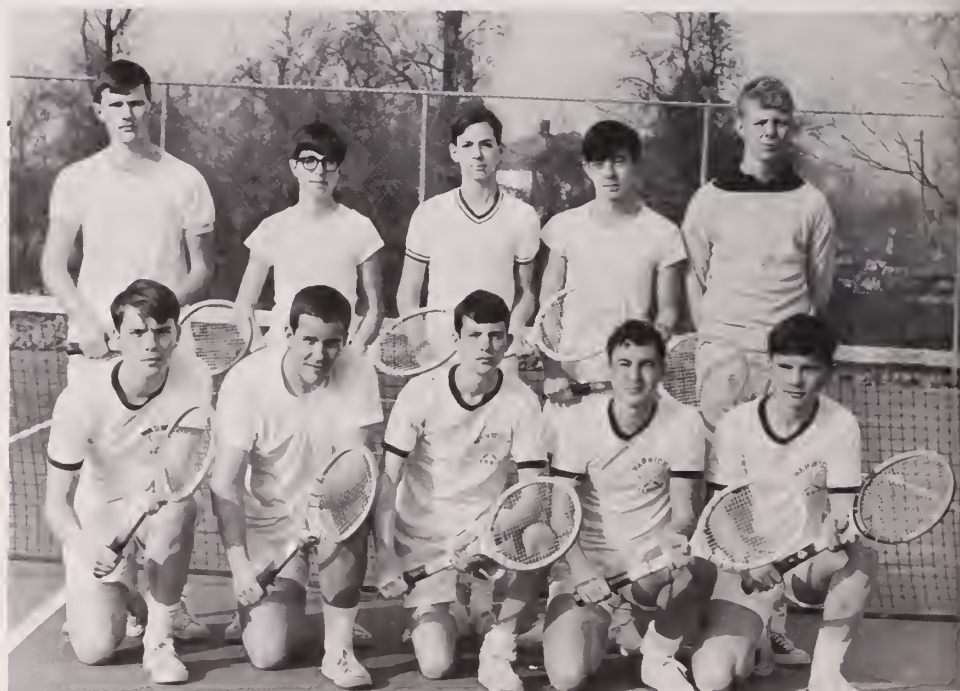

Coach Robert Hasinger and his assistant Coach James Pickens began training the matmen in early November. Beginning on December ninth at Woodrow Wilson, the season ended at Denhigh with five wins and seven losses.

Outstanding seniors, Dennis Myers and Larry Horrell ended their matches with the excellence of twelve and 0.

Lake Taylor High School in Norfolk was the scene of the Regional Wrestling Tournament. Dennis Myers earned third place; Larry Horrell placed fourth; Tommy Bailey came out with a fifth place. These three boys earned their way to the Virginia State Wrestling Tournament where Dennis Myers competed in the semi-finalist division.

The correct return of the ball takes skill and form as displayed by George Squires while partner Ricky Alston stands poised for action. Quick-acting members of the tennis team include, row 1: Ricky Alston, Mark Chesson, Andy Shier, George Squires, and Dennis Galle. row 2: Ernie Moody, Bobby Haley, David Boykin, John Wagner, and James Bragg—Mgr. With sand flying, Fred Mirmelstein blasts out of a bunker for the pin.

Golf-Tennis

Sand Traps, New Courts Add Incentive

"Now all I have to do is learn to jump over the net!" And once they accomplished this, Mr. John Tudor's tennis enthusiasts were ready for competition. Using the new tennis courts to their fullest, the boys remained after school to coordinate the agility, preciseness, and tactics. As the team practiced vigorously each day, their important goal of broadening skills was accomplished.

Encouraging the development of the golfers, Coach Wilber Thompson took charge of the training and drilling of Warwick's golf team. The team practiced vigorously for the second year on the Newport News Municipal Golf Course. The experience of returning seniors Fred Mirmelstein and Chris Wilson, and sophomore Robert Zodda gave the team a boost in their competition.

"Swinging" members of the golf team include, row 1: Chris Wilson, Freddie Mirmelstein, and Robert Zodda. row 2: Mike Stanley, Tommy Vann, Glenn Hudson, and Jack Castle.

Happenings In Classes

Although usually combined under a single title, each student was a unique individual and an important part of his school's happenings. Being the last classes to attend the "old Warwick," the students were closely united through a strong bond of school spirit; everything that was being done was for the last time in the retiring school, therefore it must be carried through in a never-to-be-forgotten fashion.

"Mice," or eighth graders, were characterized by their confusion and great numbers, while the freshmen were a little more settled and sure of themselves. The sophomores gave the seniors their annual Senior Assembly.

Senior Prom highlighted the junior class' activity. Led by the able seniors, all the classes were united into one body, which created the happenings of Warwick.

Seniors Seniors Boast School Spirit, Leadership

Surpassing all other classes in enthusiasm and participation, Warwick's seniors were often described as the most school spirited class. Sponsoring the class of '68 were Mr. Kenneth Bowen, Mrs. Audrene Hughes, and Mrs. Nancy Williams. Senior officers, Steve Moore, President; Kathy Lovell, Vice-President; and Dianna Hack, Secretary-Treasurer, helped to bring about a year of fun, success, and co-operation. Under their leadership, the Senior Ring Dance and other treasury boosting projects were sponsored. In October, the senior class highlighted the Homecoming court with their representatives Pat Coffey, who was elected Queen, Donna Burnette, Carolyn Wall, and Debbie Joyner. During the year, senior emblems were selected and new personalities were chosen. The Senior Day, Leadership Day, Banquet, and Play capped the best year of the class of '68.

Versatile Leaders Confront Problems With Senior Prom

Beginning their final year at the old school, the junior class sponsored the first dance of the year which was also the first dance ever to be held in the boys' gym. Their shoe check, a must with such a dance, proved to be a completely unique experience. Another asset to their money raising project was the coat check at the basketball games. In October, with Homecoming near and two positions to fill on the court, the juniors wisely chose Sharon Crickenberger and Brenda Crump as their representatives.

The big project of the year was, of course, the Senior Prom. Committee co-chairmen were appointed early in the year. The capable officers who became the overseers of these committees were Sandi Brooks, President; Debbie Russell, Vice-President; and Peggy McLaughlin, Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Carol Lambiotte sponsored the class.

Giant Farmer Day Eight-Foot Farmer Revealed By Class

"Spirit" was the cry of the sophomore class as they plunged enthusiastically into their third year at Warwick. With the leadership of President Brenda Stevens, Vice-President Kathy Coleman, and Secretary-Treasurer Renee Noland, plus the helpful guidance of their sponsor Mr. Earl Barton, the class triumphed in the '67-'68 school year.

For Homecoming, the sophomores decided that Brenda Meredith would be their proud representative on the court. With the coming of Farmer Day, the industrious class constructed the traditional eight foot tall farmer. After this project, the far-sighted sophomores sponsored a dance in preparation for the prom of '69. Starting with second semester, many sophomores remained after school exchanging and forming ideas which resulted in their presentation of the Senior Assembly, a gift to the graduating seniors.

Freshmen

Growing Up Pains Challenge Abilities And Determination

"It's such a different feeling being a freshman! For once you know that you're not on the bottom of the pile."

This vibrant sensation was expressed enthusiastically by all members of the freshman class as they "grew up" into the sophisticated ninth grade standing. Leading his class in the planning of their activities was President Rick Cutler. Pam Surry filled the position of Vice-President, and Jane Hazelwood served as Secretary-Treasurer. Mrs. Ann Smola took the responsibilities as sponsor for the class. Headed by these capable people, the freshman class had a part in many happenings at Warwick. From their dances and other special class activities, they raised a large amount of money, part of which they donated to the museum project. In the Homecoming festivities, the class spotlighted Sara Lou Graves as their representative.

Leading, it seems, the student body in cheering the team on are members of Freshman class.

Novel Experiences "Plant" Foundation For New Farmers

"Say, could you tell me where room 007 is?" As a new avalanche of eighth graders arrived at Warwick, they discovered that their main problem would be learning the floor plans. With the help of their sponsor, Mrs. Raines, the eighth graders faced the many problems and duties that arose during the first hectic weeks of school.

Besides the selection of homeroom presidents, their first major duty was the election of officers. When the balloting was over, James Bowers was their leader; Robin Bonnett, Vice-President; and Secretary-Treasurer was Vickie Chenail. With homecoming 'the mice chose Beverly Mann as their representative. During the year, many of the eighth graders participated in such activities as sports, clubs, and projects. By the end of the school year, the mice had planted a firm foundation for their years at Warwick.

Caught in the act of being themselves are President, James Bowers, top; Robin Bonnett, Vice-President, at right; and Secretary-Treasurer, Vicki Chenail, above.

Happenings In Advertisements

Linking business and their prospective patrons, advertising has long been the essence of a successful business. When approached by an annual staffer about the possibility of purchasing an advertisement, businessmen often asked the student how placing an advertisement in the Warwick could help his establishment. Having a circulation of 1200, the annuals were distributed to seventy percent of the student body. Unlike other publications that businesses advertised in, an annual was not read and then discarded. An advertisement in an annual lasts a lifetime, reminding students of its establishment's patronage and interest long after they have graduated. Without this interest and patronage, The Warwick could not have been developed as far in scope as it was. On behalf of the students, The Warwick staff thanks the advertisers for their business.

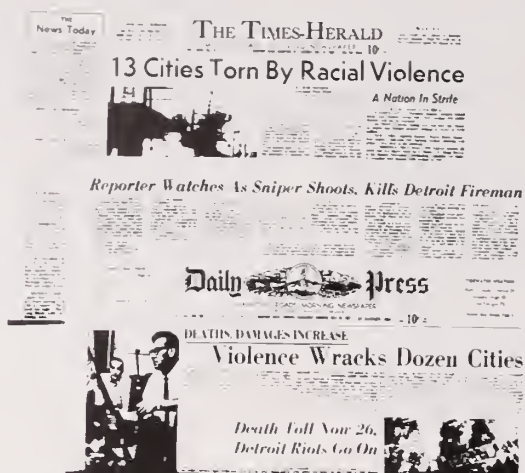

Arlene,
To a real sweet girl. It's been nice knowing
you this year.
Always remember crate 073". Best of luck in your future years.

Already, one half of the world's supply of electricity is generated in the United States.
And the demand continues to grow.
How will it be met? Through the energy and resourcefulness of America's independent electric companies. Companies that plan ahead to stay ahead of the needs of tomorrow.

Keats

Arlene, I hope you aren't mad at me for anything that may have happened this year. I + has been a pretty cool gym class only the locker room was a little crowded. Don't forget the cool classes we have had this year. Especially Girls Chorus. This Page is reserved for me because my boyfriend works in the shipyard. Have fun this summer. Watch out for those boys and class! Do anything that I wouldn't do. Best of luck and good wish in the future.

GOOD SHIPS START HERE

Fine ships don't roll off a production line. They're built efficiently and well only by men whose skills and knowledge are broad. That's why Newport News begins at the beginning with its own selective Apprentice School.

High School graduates enter on the basis of academic record. But selectivity doesn't stop there. In classroom and shop, in the drafting room and out in the yard, each man's special abilities are watched and developed.

Some become skilled and versatile machinists. Others become expert electricians or precision tool makers. Many become supervisors. Some earn scholarships for advanced training at colleges and technical schools.

We think the School's a pretty inspiring place, because its end results are good men and good ships.

Support Shown Is Rewarded in "Thanks"

Without the assistance and understanding of many people, the Happenings of '67-'68 could not have been recorded. To the people listed below, the Warwick staff extends a warm and special "thank you".

Taylor Publishing Company and especially Mr. Danny DeFalco for his patience and service.

Mr. Karl Phillips and his son for taking individual class pictures.

Photographers—Chris Wilson, Kenny Lassiter, Eddy Waddy, and Kenny Wall for recording Warwick's happenings in pictures.

The faculty for their patience and needed assistance.

The Guidance and Office Staff for allowing us the use of their phones. Consolidated Photographic Industries for their prompt service. Peninsula merchants and patrons for supporting Warwick High School through their advertising.

Mike Congleton for helping us with our sale of "Beat Fergie" buttons during Spirit Week.

Mrs. Knies for the life-saving food she brought us during one of our "night sessions".

Earle staff for putting up with us in the same room for the last and final time.

Mr. Leslie Howell for all of the time, work, and advice given for the production; and Mrs. Howell for letting us borrow him during the year.

The parents of all of the staff members for their consideration and never dying help.

Printed by Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas, Texas, The Warwick—1968 was printed on 90 pound Warren matte paper by off-set lithography, using Century style body copy (12 point), 20 CLC Impact headline style (30 point), and kickers (18 point) throughout its 264 pages. The embossed cover was designed by the 1968 staff. For margins we used— $\frac{1}{2}$ " gutter margins,  $\frac{3}{4}$ " top and side margins, and 1" bottom margins.

As Year Ends Things Continue To Happen

Trying to recall everything that happened, students found that they had played an important role in the development of a never-to-be-forgotten year in Warwick's long history. Orientation . . . traditional meetings in the cafeteria . . . cramming for tests . . . pep assemblies . . . athletic events . . . Homecoming . . . Farmer Day . . . dances in the boys' gym . . . adjusting to the construction of the new school . . . literary achievements . . . heated discussions at Congress meetings . . . preparations for the move to the new buildings . . . Prom . . . and finally Graduation . . . all enticed the student body to join Warwick's society in creating a feeling of spirit and pride.

Trying to uphold Farmer tradition to be carried into the new Warwick next year was an automatic part of each individual as he both gained something and left his mark in the eventful year 1967-68.

Showing the origin of Warwick, Morrison High, this marking is embedded into the entrance of the Wooden Hall. Dripping water in the "temporary" Chicken Coop reminds students of the many personalities within the old buildings.
